Response to Amendment

1. This action is in response to Applicants' amendment received on December 5, 2003.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

3. Claims 1-3 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Becht et al. (USPN 5,094,000).

In reference to claims 1-3, Becht et al. discloses an electric powertool having a circular tool motor-driven (column 3, lines 46-52) by an axially extending shaft (50) with the tool clamped by a clamping device actuated by a pivotally displaceable clamping lever (21, 23) about a bolt (44); a mechanical braking device (34) displaceable between a breaking position and a release position (column 5, lines 17-22); a switching member (16) for turning the motor on and off; a safety element (20) mechanically connected by an actuation part (26, 30, 32) to the braking device (34); wherein a locking mechanism (21', 15') is arranged for placing the clamping lever (21, 23) in a clamped state in which it is unlocked in the safety position of the safety element (20) and is in a locked state in the release position of the safety element (20; column 3, lines 17-20; column 5, lines 22-29), the locking mechanism comprising a hook element (area between 15') connected (mechanically) to the braking device (34) whereby the clamping lever (21, 23) in the clamped state allows the hook element (area between 15') to engage a recess (area between 21') in the clamping lever (21, 23), wherein the recess (area between 21') is laterally spaced from the bolt (44).

Response to Arguments

4. Applicant's arguments filed December 5, 2003 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Examiner agrees that based on the typing errors of the previous Office Action, which incorrectly recite the elements of Becht et al. that correspond to the elements of Applicant's invention, it would appear as though Becht et al. fails to disclose Applicant's invention of a pivotable lever with a recess positioned to corresponding with a hook element. However, the above rejection recites the elements of Becht et al. in a manner that correctly reads on Applicant's invention as claimed.

Conclusion

5. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

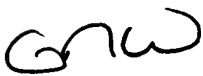

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
